

Phyllis Stewart-Thompson
12/20/2001 01:09 PM

To: Brian Hancock/FEC/US@FEC
cc:

Subject: FW: public comment re internet voting

Here is one for you. Thanks

----- Forwarded by Phyllis Stewart-Thompson/FEC/US on 12/20/2001 01:00 PM -----

Matt Veal <mveal@tbfcorp.net> on 10/16/2001 12:55:39 PM

Please respond to "mveal@tbfcorp.net" <mveal@tbfcorp.net>

To: FEC Webmaster/FEC/US@FEC
cc:

Subject: FW: public comment re internet voting

i sent this to the correct address for public comment but it did not get through. can you forward it please. thank you.

-----Original Message-----

From: Matt Veal [SMTP:mveal@tbfcorp.net]
Sent: Tuesday, October 16, 2001 11:00 AM
To: 'internetnprm@fec.gov'
Subject: public comment re internet voting

Dear Sir or Madam:

I find the reasons against internet voting to be lacking. This tool has been needed for years. Furthermore, it could be supplemented with phone voting as well. We need to make it easier to get to the polls; there are times when inconvenience affects turnout.

In fact, I am amazed this matter is even under discussion. It needs to be implemented now. I made the comment to my girlfriend and to the pollworker at the last presidential election that our technology in elections in Sarasota, Florida was way behind and that this was going to be a mess - and a need less one. Now we have the same problem in New York although the WTC bombing did mess things up a little.

Anyway, the time was here 5 years ago; please count me as a strong supporter of using technology to improve government.

Yours Sincerely,
Matthew Veal